The Partner Support Group is for those in neurodiverse relationships with a spouse/partner who has confirmed or suspected autism spectrum profile.

The group meeting is a positive and supportive time to share experiences, gain information and understanding about how neurodiversity affects couple relationships.

Facilitator: Cheryl Rhodes, LMFT
Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist,
Certified Neurodiverse Couples Therapist.

Cheryl is an experienced mental health practitioner and support group leader who has worked with families and individuals with autism and developmental disabilities for over 30 years.

This open group meets on the third Wednesday of the month. Participants can join at any time.

There is no cost to participants to attend any session. Advanced registration is required.

Group meetings will be held virtually.

- Register at atl-spectrum.com.

After you register, a confirmation email will be sent with the meeting link.
